First Nations University of Canada

FNUniv is a unique Canadian institution that specializes in Indigenous knowledge, providing post-secondary education for Indigenous and non-Indigenous students alike within a culturally supportive environment. As a federated college of the University of Regina, our students enjoy the benefits of that federation and receive University of Regina certificates, diplomas, and degrees.

Applications to all FNUniv programs are facilitated by the U of R. Students apply to the University of Regina and select First Nations University of Canada as their Federated College of choice.
