Pre-professional Student Programming: the English-Science Bundle Plus

Luther's English-Science Bundle Plus is a unique and specialized program for pre-professional health students (pre-med, pre-dent, pre-pharm, pre-opt, pre-vet). The program is two semesters long and students are in a 36 student cohort of highly motivated pre-professional students all taking the same classes and labs together. This structure allows for pre-professional students to form study groups and meet others with similar interests. The program also includes two specialized Luther English courses (100 & 110), only taught for this program, that focus on scientific themes and technical writing. luthercollege.edu/english-science
